Short description of the project, including its aims	The main aim of the project is to analyze and subsequently adapt the national legislation in the area of clusters taking into account the EU recommendations, if any. As the Slovak cluster law as well as other cluster policy support tools, are specifically geared towards supporting industrial clusters. However, there are also other types of clusters acting in Slovakia, e.g. Regional Development Cluster, the Cluster of Slovak Tourism etc. For the above reason, these types of clusters are not taken into account especially with regard to calls for their financial support. Therefore, it is important to talk about them and their useful role in society for an ordinary citizen. It is also necessary to extend the term "cluster" into the common everyday language to bring him closely to the ordinary citizen. Since it is a relatively little-used and unknown term. Therefore, the project will also work with the general public through; debates with citizens, focus groups and questionnaires gathering opinions, PR activities, social networks, bigger communication campaign as well as specific project events. The project should be a comparative analysis of several national legislations in the area of cluster support.
